CFO SELECTIONS

Tammy Helgeson

Qualifications Summary

Tammy Helgeson is a dynamic accounting professional with over 30 years of experience in controllership and financial management for a wide range of companies and non-profit organizations.

Professional History

Various Clients	Contract Controller/CFO	1995 - 2011
Alaska Airlines	Director of General Accounting	1990 - 1991
Shurgard Capital Group	Corporate Controller	1986 - 1990
Price Waterhouse Coopers	Senior Auditor	1983 - 1986

Accomplishments

- Built a consulting practice in accounting and financial management for clients ranging from small operating non-profits to large ($95 million) charitable endowments.
- Skilled in establishing processes for internal and external reporting including standard reporting and financial analysis, and communication to management and audit/finance committees.
- Responsible for establishing and strengthening financial processes at multiple companies, including assessment, design, and monitoring of internal control functions using a cost/benefit approach.
- Project assignments have included selection and conversion of accounting systems for non-profit clients, assistance in hiring and training of staff, and design, implementation, and streamlining of accounting processes for both new and established organizations.
- Experienced in preparation of public company reporting documents including 10-K, 10-Q and investor reporting.
- At multiple entities, directed accounting/finance operations including management of staff and oversight of A/R, A/P, payroll, budgeting, and partnership and acquisition accounting functions.
- Experienced in managing audits and quarterly reviews for both private and public firms. As a contract controller/CFO, all clients received unqualified opinions with no management letters, reducing time and cost of audits.

Licenses / Education

- Bachelor of Arts, Concentration in Accounting, University of Washington