Gabe Adler has 36 years of experience in the public accounting field. He merged his practice with Zinner & Co. in 1996. Gabe's client base includes owners of closely held businesses and professional service companies, whom he counsels in areas of accounting, tax, auditing, mergers and acquisitions, and how to transfer a business to the next generation.

Gabe has a diverse clientele with a specialty in real estate. He advises many real estate owners, managers, and developers in developing their real estate tax strategies.

Gabe is a member of the American Institute of CPAs and the Ohio Society of CPAs. He was past president of the Eastside Cleveland Chapter of the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accounting (OSCPA). Currently, he is on the board of InMotion, a nonprofit wellness center for people with Parkinson's disease and other movement disorders, and the Northern Ohio Chapter of the National Association of Industrial and Office Properties (NAIOP), of which he became Treasurer in 2014. He has spoken to the rotary club on tax laws and planning, and to the chief executive board on estate planning techniques. He is also a trustee and past officer for his synagogue.

Gabe graduated from Cleveland State University with a degree in business administration in accounting.
