

10 Fast Facts About Impact Replacement Windows

Are your windows costing you money?

Old windows can drive energy costs sky high, exclude you from insurance discounts, and expose you to unwanted noise and sun. Here are a few reasons to consider Replacement Windows:

1. Protect Your Home

During a Hurricane. During a storm, ordinary windows can be broken by wind gusts or flying debris. Wind then enters the building, causing an increase in pressure and potentially lifting the roof off of the structure. Impact Replacement Windows are constructed with layers of laminated glass that remain intact even after impact, preserving the building envelope. Miami-Dade and Florida Building Code approved.

2. Lower Your Energy Bills.

By combining laminated glass with advanced LoE ("low-E") coatings, our windows significantly reduce solar heat gain, keeping the sun's heat outside. Though virtually invisible to the eye, LoE coating can reduce air conditioning costs without a smoky tint to block your view.

3. Qualify for Insurance

Discounts. Adding Impact Replacement Windows meets the wind mitigation requirements for most insurance companies. Speak with your insurance provider for details.

4. Block 95% of harmful

UV rays. Get exceptional fading protection by blocking up to 95% of the sun's damaging ultraviolet rays (a leading cause of fading). Help your furniture, carpets, curtains and wall coverings stay beautiful for years to come.

5. Protect the Environment.
