KALAMAZOO, Mich. - Home buyers have a lot of choices when it comes to financing their mortgage. Michigan buyers can rest assured they have one of the best in the nation in their own backyard. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) released the top lenders for its FHA 203k program for October. AmeriFirst Home Mortgage ranks right up there with the top banks in the country. AmeriFirst ranked 6th in the nation for writing 203k mortgage loans in October.

The FHA 203k is a home improvement loan that takes specific aim at the fixer-upper housing market. From vacant foreclosed homes to refinancing for home improvements, the 203k helps home buyers and homeowners finance repairs, renovations and improvements. This movement helps turn average houses into dream homes. As the #6 company in volume in the country, AmeriFirst Home Mortgage is proving it knows the FHA 203k program front-to-back. An efficient system and experienced 203k experts lead to faster closing times for this home improvement loan option.

“Helping homeowners and buyers in our communities is an opportunity we take seriously,” AmeriFirst president and co-founder Mark Jones says. “Home improvement loans like the FHA 203k help turn dog houses into dream homes, and we’re happy that our success means more people get to enjoy the American Dream of home ownership.”

CEO and co-founder Dave Gahm echoes the sentiment saying “AmeriFirst is proud to be known as the 203k expert in the real estate world. Our achievement highlights the great team we have working for home buyers today.”
