

SAVE THE DATE! September 29th, 2014, Milpitas, CA, USA

Join us on September 29th, 2014 for a one-day seminar about Valens' new Colligo™ family of next-gen HDBaseT chipsets. Come hear about the latest enhancements in the HDBaseT domain.

Location:

Embassy Suites, Milpitas – Silicon Valley,
901 East Calaveras Boulevard,
Milpitas, California, 95035, USA

We are looking forward to seeing you there.

Best regards,

Malcolm Edwards,
Valens General Manager, The Americas

|             |                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                  |
|-------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 09:00-09:30 | Welcome & Coffee                                                                                                                                            |                                                                  |
| 09:30-09:50 | The HDBaseT Market & Valens Semiconductor                                                                                                                   | Mr. Malcolm Edwards , General Manager Americas, Valens    |
| 09:50-10:00 | Introduction to HDBaseT 2.0 Spec                                                                                                                            | Mr. Eli Ofek , Chief Solution Officer, Valens             |
| 10:00-11:45 | The Colligo™ Family:a. Architecture and highlight featuresb. The Chipsets: VS2310/2311/2000c. Firmware & Featuresd. Schedule & Availability | Mr. Eli Ofek , Chief Solution Officer, Valens             |
| 11:45-12:45 | Lunch Break                                                                                                                                                 | Mr. Eli Ofek , Chief Solution Officer, Valens             |
| 12:45-13:30 | Use cases and target applications                                                                                                                           |                                                                  |
| 13:30-14:30 | Demo: USB + 4K Video over both Copper and Fiber                                                                                                             | Mr. Eli Ofek , Chief Solution Officer, Valens             |
| 14:30-14:45 | Coffee Break                                                                                                                                                | Mr. Yaron Ben-Meir , Customer Support Team Leader, Valens |
| 14:45-15:45 | Evaluation Kit (EVS2-EVK)a. Highlight Featuresb. Package Deliveredc. How to Use                                                                 |                                                                  |
| 15:45-16:45 | Hardware Design Guidelines + Support Tools                                                                                                                  | Mr. Yaron Ben-Meir , Customer Support Team Leader, Valens |
| 16:45-17:00 | Wrap-up and Final Q&A                                                                                                                                       | All                                                              |