Security 101 has teamed up with Target Corporations "Safe Cities" program and the city of West Palm Beach, FL in efforts to make the city a safer place. The city is installing an additional 10 surveillance cameras to the 32 that make up their surveillance network in the downtown area. The cameras will be mounted on light poles or on top of downtown buildings and will allow the to look for criminal activity as it is taking place. Security 101 has been a close partner with the city of West Palm Beach since 2007 and we are very excited to be assisting with this fantastic program!

Security 101 Jacksonville sponsors weight loss challenge for employees

Security 101 Jacksonville team before the first weigh-in

A couple of months ago, the Security 101 Jacksonville team instituted the Visalus Body by Vi 90-day weight-loss challenge for their employees. Charlie Taylor, owner of the North Florida & South Carolina offices started the program awhile back and has had great success. Once he started dropping the weight, many of the Security 101 employees wanted to get involved. So, the office made it a company sponsored weight-loss challenge and will be giving the person with the largest percentage weight loss a $500 gift card.

The 90-day weight-loss challenge will be completed over the next couple of weeks. The success has been phenomenal! Some team members have dropped over 30lbs as of this week! Kudos to the Security 101 team!

We will be sure to update you on the results in our next company newsletter!

Jackson, MS police department fights crime with License Plate Recognition surveillance

A few of the Jackson, MS. Police Dept. fleet with LPR cameras

In discussing the world of Video Surveillance today, we have now transitioned into a new kind of camera. These cameras are referred to as LPR (License Plate Recognition) cameras, which add a whole new meaning to the term "Big Brother". With LPR technology, surveillance cameras has moved to an entirely new era.

The City of Jackson, MS. was looking for an LPR provider to help catch the overabundance of criminal activity plaguing the city. After much research on their end, they decided to go with the Genetec AutoVu LPR solution. The way the system works is when a vehicle drives by the patrol unit, the license plate of the car is read and then cross-referenced against two databases. If the person is on the NCIC or warrant hotlist, it will notify the officer of a violation. He can then take action on that vehicle.

Jackson, MS. police department has plans on adding a variety of hotlists to this system to be even more useful in fighting crime and keeping criminals off the street. The possibilities are endless, since they can add up 1000 different hotlists. This can include local drug trafficking, sex offenders, etc.
