

OmniComm Systems provides a critical role in enhancing patient lives by shortening time to market of essential life-saving treatments. OmniComm Systems is dedicated to providing the latest eClinical technology enabling the world's life science organizations to maximize the value of their clinical research investments. OmniComm's solutions provide better trial oversight and study delivery, connecting patients to better healthcare.

INNOVATIVE PRODUCTS

Our products define our commitment to dramatically improving the way clinical trials are managed and run. These innovative products are designed to allow clinical trial sponsors and investigative sites to easily and securely collect, validate, transmit and analyze clinical study data. By offering clinical trial sponsors the ability to conduct clinical trials under multiple platforms, OmniComm provides customers with significant flexibility, ease-of-use and complete control over collected data.

Through the use of our eClinical products, clinical trial sponsors and investigators are able to conduct clinical trials more efficiently – allowing for faster initiation of data collection, lower costs in the data collection process and the ability to make more timely decisions.

GLOBAL HQ
USA
EUROPEAN HQ
Germany

United Kingdom
Netherlands
Spain
Japan

