

A Flexible Logistics Solution in Southern California

Dependable People. Exceptional Logistics.

Your distribution volumes are constantly changing due to seasonal spikes, retail promotions, and other factors. But do your costs flex up and down with these volume shifts?

Kane Is Able (KANE) can offer you a variable-cost distribution solution with our premium, multi-client distribution center in Southern California. As your throughput changes during the year, you only pay for the space and labor that you need. The result? You gain a powerful, adaptive distribution capability – with no capital investment.

KANE's award-winning logistics services integrate distribution, packaging, transportation, and information management for consumer goods companies and their retail partners. We are a national leader in collaborative distribution and shared distribution services.

Our tier 1 distribution center is located just minutes from all of the interstates of the Inland Empire, including I-10, I-215, and I-15, less than two miles from the Union Pacific railroad intermodal ramp, and it can service the Los Angeles and Long Beach ports.

Benefits of KANE's Shared Distribution Services

Lower distribution costs. Pay only for what you need – logistics becomes a variable expense where costs parallel your revenue stream.

Reduce risk and capital investment. Leverage KANE's investments in warehouses, trucks and technology and channel your capital to support your core business.

Streamline and simplify distribution. Use a single-source partner for integrated distribution and freight delivery, eliminating the time and cost involved in coordinating multiple providers.

Collaborate and save. Share warehouse costs and consolidate freight with other KANE customers shipping to the same retailers.

Improve customer service and lower freight costs. Use our national distribution network to place your product closer to customers.

Quickly enter and leave markets. We can set up all EDI communications feeds and establish SOPs to have your product ready to ship within two weeks of when we receive it.

Support business growth. KANE's national distribution network gives you a virtual logistics capacity – for space, labor and transportation.
