Remote Guarding

The traditional guarding functions that you depend on can now be performed remotely.

When you have Remote Guarding managed by Securitas USA, we act on incidents in real-time and can deter trouble before it happens. The combination of smart technology and our security expertise creates unprecedented efficiency to help protect your facility 24/7.

The Remote Guarding Advantage

Real-time security programs are achieved when video cameras, video analytics, monitoring centers and security officers work together as one integrated force. Potential threats are spotted by cameras and automatically analyzed based on predefined criteria. When necessary, an operator is alerted who then takes immediate action to prevent or minimize damage. We continually identify areas for creating efficiency both in preventing incidents and lowering resource demand.

We learn about your security needs

We will conduct an operational analysis of your facility and then discuss and evaluate your security needs with you. Understanding the day-to-day activity of your operations is the key to designing a solution that gives you the best possible security with the greatest possible resource efficiency.

Our Remote Guarding alternatives utilize the market's best technology, but we realize that you may have already invested in cameras, sensors and other equipment. That is why we work with open platforms that allow the integration of most existing equipment with new technology, software and services. We are dedicated to creating the best solution for your facility with minimal start-up investment.

We have tailor-made Remote Guarding services to help protect companies large and small across just about every industry and unique business environment.

The Future of Security Efficiency

Raising your security performance without increasing your costs — this is possible when you combine ever-vigilant operators and security officers with Remote Guarding.

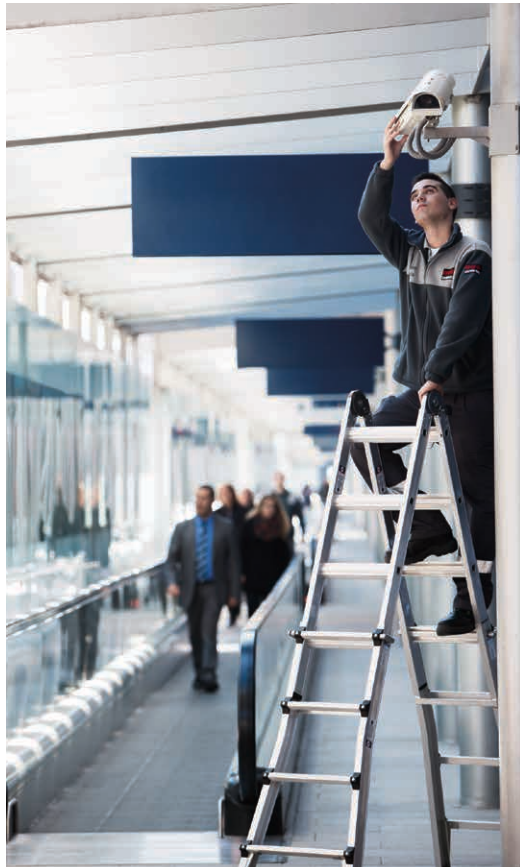

Securitas USA offers the following Remote Guarding services:

- Alarm Verification – Alarm Verification gives you the shortest possible response time when an incident occurs. Cameras will scan your premises and parking lots for unauthorized activity and potential threats, advises status and delivers an audible message that security is monitoring in real-time.
- Remote Employee Escort – This service utilizes live video surveillance with audio notification to provide a safe environment as employees arrive and depart the area. In other situations, we can monitor visitors who have access to a building and follow their progress throughout the building.
- Remote Entry/Exit Management – This service provides on demand processing of employees and contract workers who require access to your facility. We can verify their identity, confirm authorization for entry/exit, track and record activity and report any exceptions.
- Remote Patrol – Using video-based patrols we inspect your premises and critical assets, monitor any suspicious activity, help assure compliance and leverage the power of behavior modification to reduce security expenses over time.
- Remote Perimeter Protection – We customize intelligent video analytics for each unique location to automatically recognize potential threats and alert operators the moment there is suspicious activity.

How Remote Guarding can enhance your security program:

- Automatic detection of objects in predefined areas, suspicious movement or abnormal flow interruptions that occur at your facility
- Integration of speaker system for operators to ward off potential intruders while alerting authorities
- When combined with Securitas Mobile Guarding or a local Branch Response team, our clients receive security services and response capabilities that mirror those of an on-site security officer at a significant cost savings
