

You Look Happy!

A: You look happy- what's going on?

B: I'm taking my husband out to celebrate tonight. I just got a promotion. I'm going to be a manager in the tech department now.

C: Wow, congratulations, was that one of your goals when you started working with this company?

B: No, not really, but I guess I am doing well because a promotion is a great measure of success, isn't it?

A: I mean I guess so, if you define success that way.

B: What do you mean?

Key Vocabulary Phrases

1. "Do you think your future self would want more money...?"
2. "I try to align my life choices with my personal goals..."
3. "I try to live in the moment"
4. "At this stage of life, the extra money is certainly tempting."
5. "A promotion is a great measure success, isn't it?"
6. "Making money might not be all it's cracked up to be"
7. "It's hard to say what I'll want down the line"

A: Well making more money might not be all that it's cracked up to be.

6. "Making money might not be all it's cracked up to be"
7. "It's hard to say what I'll want down the line"

C: Yeah, I agree. Do you think your future self would want more money or would you want more time to travel and spend time with your family?

B: It's hard to say what I'll want down the line but at this stage of life the extra money is certainly tempting.

A: I don't know. For me, I try to align my life choices with my personal goals more than my professional goals.

B: Like what? What are your personal goals?

A: I try to live in the moment. It's such a cliché these days, but there is something to that idea.

C: Totally- same here. I try to take at least 3 trips abroad every year because I think being successful is experiencing the world and I know that I won't be able to do all of that traveling after I retire.

B: Hmm you guys have a point.
Maybe I will think more about what success means to me before I accept this promotion.
Thanks for the chat.

A: Good luck with your decision.
