Transform travel, expense, and accounts payable data into actionable insights

Chrome River ANALYTICS

Chrome River ANALYTICS is powered by a world-class business intelligence reporting engine which converts expense spend data into compelling, intuitive reports. Chrome River ANALYTICS delivers a bundled set of standard reports, in addition to the flexibility to create custom reports through a browser-based report writer. Analyze spend by expense category to uncover strategic opportunities for better negotiated rates with hotels, rentals cars and more. With Chrome River ANALYTICS, users can generate impactful reports and analyses on their own for efficient and effective decision making.

Analytics reports are very helpful and we are identifying ways we can save money and where we might have been entitled to credits on corporate cards.

Custom Reports

Chrome River provides flexibility through a browser-based report writer, so custom reports can be created. Select the data you want and easily construct a report of almost any type.

Find Savings

ANALYTICS delivers compelling reports to your team while empowering you to uncover cost-saving opportunities and make strategic business decisions to drive growth.

Visualizations

Take advantage of graphical, drag and drop, web-based visualizations that make it easy for non-technical users to discover patterns and dependencies within financial data.

Effortless Deployment

There is no software to install and no desktop client to maintain. Our internet application makes powerful ad hoc applications readily available via the Web for users across your enterprise.
