

LABOURÉ LECTURE SERIES

Healthcare · Diversity · Social Justice

Jennifer De Leon

FREE LECTURE

November 23, 2015, at 5:30 pm

303 Adams Street, Milton

Labouré College is thrilled to announce that author Jennifer De Leon will be the first speaker in the College's Laboure Lecture Series. De Leon will be reading from her short story, "Home Movie," which was chosen as this year's "One City, One Story" selection for the Boston Book Festival.

As an author, speaker, and educator, Jennifer De Leon brings her own rich history to life through her writing. The child of Guatemalan immigrants, De Leon discusses powerful subjects such as race, politics, education, and poverty through storytelling. "Labouré College's diverse community will be a wonderful place to share my short story, 'Home Movie'. We will discuss the ways in which 'the story' can provide crucial insight into the complex intersection of race, class, and educational issues, dispelling myths and showcasing the diversity of our community's experiences," said Jennifer De Leon.

A resident of Milton, Ms. De Leon teaches in the Boston Public Schools and is currently working on a novel.

This event is FREE and open to the public.
Labouré College is located at 303 Adams Street in Milton.
Lecture will be held in room C112; please park in rear lot.
Visit laboure.edu/events for more information.