

KOPERNIKO REPORTS

Koperniko Reports is a web-based Crystal Reporting tool that allows companies to categorize and deploy a multitude of Crystal Reports to their users. Because Koperniko Reports is web-based, users can access critical reports and data in real-time when working in the office, from home or on the road.

Product Highlights

- Utilizes the latest in AJAX and .NET web technology for best possible performance and functionality

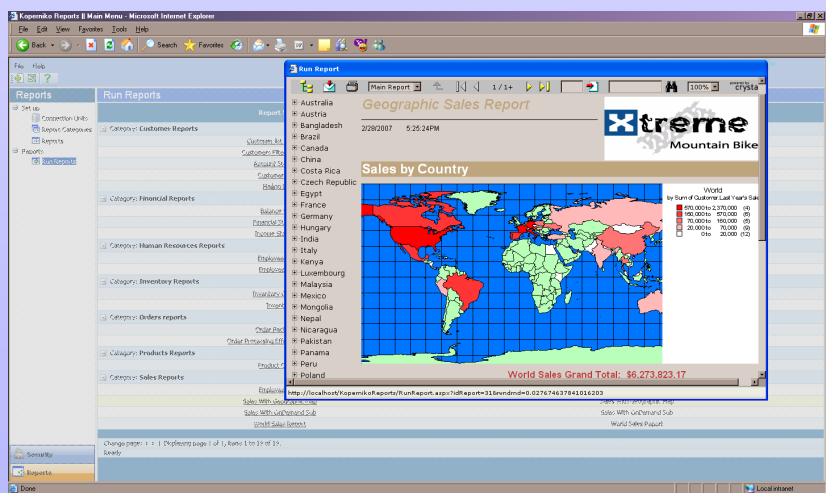

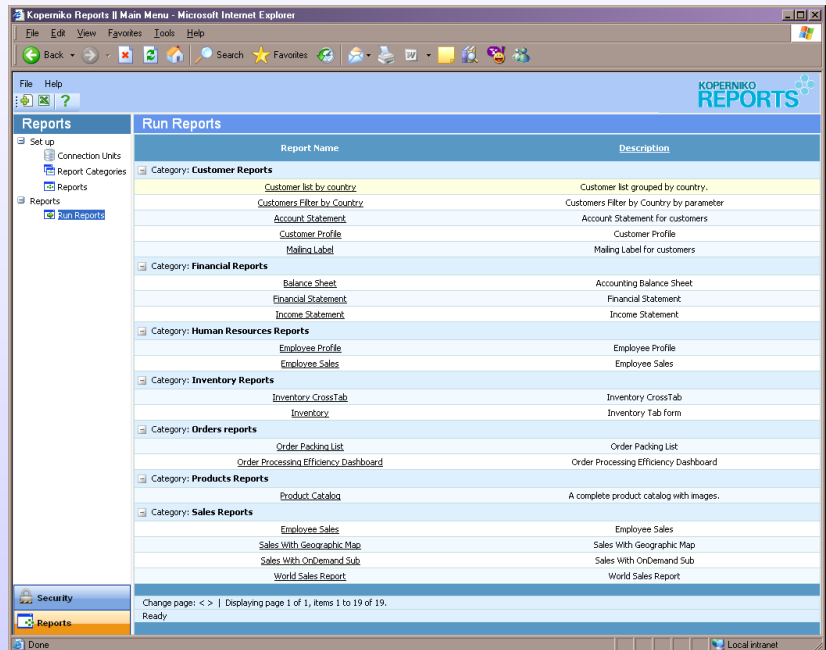

- User/Role based security allows users access to only the reports you want them to see

- Define multiple database connections. Limit database access at both user and report levels

- Easily integrated into existing web-based applications such as Microsoft CRM or Exact e-synergy

- Supports Crystal reports written in versions 8.5 through XI R2, usually with no changes necessary

- NEW!!! Call reports directly from a url, no need to connect to the user interface
