

When placing an ad you ...

Pay up front.

Re-run ads at an additional cost.

Place screening phone calls, review resumes, place more calls, set appointments, interview, test and background check twenty or thirty applicants to find three or four qualified candidates.

Worry about not reaching a broad audience, or, if you're wasting company money and your staff's time and patience.

If you don't find the right person for the job, start all over. Because placing an ad doesn't guarantee results.

When relying on Azimuth for Direct Hire, you ...

Don't pay until you get results.

Meet with us so we can learn more about your precise needs. And again, you don't pay until you get results.

Let Azimuth do all the work. We present the best candidates to you...already pre-screened, tested and reference checked.

Reach the best candidates – even those not actively looking – through Azimuth's extensive connections, while your staff focuses on the business of doing business.

If we don't find the right person, we'll repeat the process at no additional cost.* Because relying on Azimuth's Direct Hire services guarantees you'll find the people you need.

*Guarantees are based on negotiated rates.
