

Red Stick Times

The Graduate School of Banking at Louisiana State University

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 2016

The end of the 2016 session is in sight and several VIPs will be arriving on campus to help bring the session to a successful conclusion. We anticipate that the ceremony will take about 30 minutes to complete.

BMSIM TEAMS MUST ANSWER STOCKHOLDERS

The performance of the BMSim banks will be judged this year by: Guy Labbe', EVP and CFO, St. Martin Bank & Trust, St. Martinville, LA; John Womack, Chairman and CEO, Arvest Bank, Little Rock, AR; and Graham Thompson, retired Chairman, Whitney National Bank, Baton Rouge. Selection of the winning banks will be based on stock price, ROA, ROE, goal setting, and presentation. The winners will be recognized at the graduation ceremony on Friday.

REMINDER: The Student Advisory Council is having a luncheon meeting with GSB officials TODAY in the private dining room in the back of 459 Commons Cafeteria. This is our last chance to talk about student reactions to various aspects of the 2016 session.

TODAY @ GSB

BANK STUDY PROJECTS

Freshman and Junior bank study projects are posted on the gsblsu.org website. When you get back to your bank, print these projects.

Bank Study Projects must be postmarked by the 15th of the month due. It is not necessary to incur the expense of FedEx or UPS to send these projects. The office records the receipt of the projects and sends them to a grader to be evaluated. Once graded, the projects are returned to you and the grades become a permanent part of your record. If you feel the grader has erred in the evaluation, you have two weeks to request a re-grade which must be sent to the office. It seems that most re-grades involve papers that the writers want to upgrade from a "C" to a "B" or a "B" to an "A".

EVALUATIONS

Your evaluations of the School, its faculty, and operations are very important to the administration. Each faculty member is given his/her score which is compared to the class high and low scores. All written comments are typed and classified by course, food service, apartments, etc. This information is made available to the Executive Committee which meets in July to initiate plans for the next session. We appreciate your cooperation in completing the forms and sharing your thoughts regarding school improvements.

TRASHY BANKERS

Those in charge of the ECA apartments report that in recent years bankers left a considerable amount of trash in their rooms upon their hurried departure. To assist in the cleaning chore this year, each apartment will receive a few large garbage bags Thursday to use in discarding trash. We would greatly appreciate your helping with the "turn around" of the apartments to accommodate LSU students who arrive Sunday for the summer term. The housing staff does an excellent job in preparing for our arrival, and we want to do our part in easing their chores.

GSB ALUMNI TOTAL SOARS TO 15,777

With the Class of 2016, the Graduate School of Banking will have a grand total of 15,777 alumni. Here is a state-by-state count of graduates from our 15 co-sponsoring state bankers associations since the first Class of '52. The "Other" category includes those who hail from non-sponsoring states, banking regulators, and a few miscellaneous grads. The following are listed in ascending order.

Louisiana	2,127
Tennessee	1,689
Florida	1,632
Mississippi	1,680
Georgia	1,626
Alabama	1,436
South Carolina	874
Arkansas	840
Kentucky	834
North Carolina	754
Texas	650
Virginia	453
Missouri	326
Oklahoma	226
West Virginia	169
Other	468

The Graduate School of Banking fills an important role in advanced professional education and personal career development. Our best advertisement is word-of-mouth endorsement from current and past students to others who might be interested in attending. You would be doing your friends and associates a good turn by urging them to consider enrollment. Recent surveys indicate that most bankers attending the session asked a graduate about the School before enrolling. Information and applications are available from the school office and on the gsblsu.org website.

SENIOR PARTY

The Junior/Senior Class will host the Senior party TONIGHT from 7:00pm – 10:00pm at Barcadia (next to the Varsity). Juniors and Seniors only; faculty and staff are invited. Festivities include New Orleans style food, beverages, as well as a live band – The Tricky Dickies. All students must have their GSB name badge to get in.

SWEETNESS

The School is a guest on the LSU campus for two weeks each year and its success requires the cooperation of many LSU employees. This cooperation is cheerfully offered each year and the school administration expresses its appreciation by giving boxes of candy to about 50 people on campus. Among the departments receiving this modest gift is the LSU Union, Facility Services, Lod Cook Hotel, the Rec Center, Campus Police and Parking, the Club @ Union Square, Registrar's Office, LSU Dining and Residential Life. We GREATLY appreciate the assistance of these departments.

NO ONE GOES HUNGRY

The folks who operate the 459 Cafeteria do an outstanding service for bankers. The selection of food is excellent, preparation outstanding and the service on the line is exceptional. Bankers have remarked that they would like to add to their staff employees like these who are capable of delivering quality service to their customers. The School recognizes and greatly appreciates the 459 staff.

P.S. We will miss the soft serve ice cream!

EDUCATING THE FACULTY

The faculty like and need education too! The faculty meets daily after class to identify problems, if any, and offer solutions and to hear presentations from fellow faculty members on topics addressed in their classes. Last evening Dr. Rex Bennett talked about the use of cutting edge technology in marketing. This evening Dr. Dave Kohl will deliver his outlook on the US and international economies. We are certainly fortunate to have these two gentlemen share their knowledge with us.
