

Bridging the Gap

40 Hour Medical Interpreter Training Program
Cincinnati, OH

Bridging the Gap is the leading medical interpreter training program in the U.S. today. This course prepares bilingual individuals to work as medical interpreters in hospital and clinic settings.

The Program Includes:

- Basic Interpreting Skills

Interpreter roles, ethical issues, managing the flow of an interpreting session

- Understanding U.S. Health Care

An introduction to the health care system, basic anatomy, medical terminology

- The Role of Culture in Interpreting

Self-awareness, basic characteristics of specific cultures, traditional health care

- Communication Skills

Listening skills, communication styles, advocacy

- Professional Development

Professional conduct, resources for professional growth

A unique aspect of this course is the treatment of culture as an integral part of communication, and therefore, an important aspect of the interpreter's work. An interpreter's cultural competency is a crucial part of communication in a health care setting.

The course employs participatory training techniques in an active learning environment. Class includes devoting a large amount of time to the responsibility of the interpreter, as well as role-playing, group discussions and practicing medical interpreting.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is Bridging the Gap (BTG)?

Bridging the Gap is the oldest spoken-language interpreter training program in the country and has been in the U.S. and around the world for over 20 years to provide a foundation for medical interpreting. You can find out more information at www.xculture.org.

Do I have to attend all 40 hours?

Yes. Under the license agreement with BTG, in order to receive a certificate of completion you must attend all 40 hours and receive a final score of at least 70% on the final exam. Please be aware to be in compliance with The Health Collaborative (former Greater Cincinnati Health Council), the final score must be at least 80%.

What happens if I don't pass the test?

Participants who do not receive a passing score will have the opportunity to take a makeup exam covering material for the entire course.

If I take Bridging the Gap, will I be certified?

No. You can refer to yourself as a qualified medical interpreter once you pass BTG, but you will not be considered nationally certified.

How do I become a certified medical interpreter?

There are two national organizations offering certification for medical interpreters. For more information please refer to:

<http://www.healthcareinterpretercertification.org/>

<http://www.certifiedmedicalinterpreters.org/>

Note that BTG or an equivalent program is required to take the certification exam.

What about ASL interpreters?

Sign Language interpreters have different protocols, and therefore, different certifications. The RID and the NAD are working together to offer certification examinations for American Sign Language interpreters.

Please see <http://www.rid.org> and <http://www.nad.org> for more information.

Do I get any CEU's for this training?

Members of ATA (American Translators Association) will receive 10 CEUs.

I do not have experience in the medical field. Is the training appropriate for me?

Yes! The participants in BTG come from a variety of backgrounds from novice to professional interpreters. The class is taught in a way that incorporates and includes differing skill levels.
