

Summit Livestock Facilities is pleased to offer the EasyFix Slat Rubber Matting System. The global market leader, EasyFix Slat Rubber Matting is in use in beef barns in 32 countries with more than 1,000,000 cattle finished to date! Cattle fed on the EasyFix rubber mats acclimate quickly to the slated beef barn floor design for greatly increased animal comfort, leading to more content, higher performing cattle.

Better Cattle Performance

Beef producers with slat-over pit barns report rubber mat systems greatly improve cattle comfort and have numerous health benefits compared to bare concrete slat floors. These include reduced lameness as well as reduced cold and heat stress. The improved cattle comfort and confidence associated with rubber floor systems leads to higher rates of gain, better feed conversion and higher profit potential. The payback on your investment is achieved in two years.

Superior Quality

EasyFix rubber mats are manufactured from a higher percentage of virgin rubber than are any other comparable products. In addition, EasyFix rubber mats are vulcanized. This means that EasyFix mats are formed in a chemical process where heat and pressure are used to bond the rubber at the molecular level similar to the way in which heavy truck tires and industrial conveyor belts are produced. This ensures superior tensile strength over other mats commonly available for agriculture.

While vulcanized EasyFix mats may cost a little more, they provide you with the longest possible service life, superior tractive performance, and excellent cattle comfort.

Sure-Footed Design

There are no additional fasteners required – the rubber is held in place by means of the rubber wedge, ensuring a tight, secure fitting. Even the heaviest and most aggressive bulls are unable to shift the rubber, once it is in place. EasyFix has a sloped profile design with high grips on top and undulating ridges underneath that give animals grip and confidence.

Easy to Install

The patented two-strip system covering two slats and one gap ensures good coverage while optimizing gap openings. And the unique wedge system means that EasyFix Slat Rubber is an easy DIY install for beef producers like you. If DIY is not right for you, simply call 1.800.213.0567 to request an installation estimate.
