

Company Overview

Cohesive is an enterprise asset management and performance management solution provider. We enable our customers to achieve greater performance and greater profitability by unlocking the hidden potential that exists within their business.

Who We Are

Cohesive Solutions is a business solutions and consulting firm helping organizations increase performance and profitability through the application of Enterprise Asset and Performance Management solutions. Our Enterprise Asset Management solutions, powered by IBM Maximo, provide a single point of control over all types of assets within the organization, and optimize the investments in them.

Propel, our Enterprise Performance Management solution, unlocks the hidden potential within enterprise systems with a powerful toolset that enables the business to achieve greater performance. Through visualizing current performance, enhanced responsiveness to changing business conditions, and collaboration capabilities, organizations communicate and report on continuous improvement initiatives.

Solutions

Enterprise Performance Management - visualize data locked in your enterprise systems, align critical and strategic objectives with data and measures, act on insight and intelligence derived from business systems and processes.

Business Transformation Consulting - operational assessments, requirements definition, work, asset & supply-chain process evaluation and refinement.

Maximo Software Sales & Services - project planning, process and data reconciliation, application configuration, change management, procedure development, training, validation, and help desk support.

Cloud Hosting- Maximo-As-A-Service hosted in a secure cloud environment.

Mobile Computing- GIS & Mobile solutions that extend the capabilities of existing technology investments and significantly improve the way people work.

Cohesive combines decades of industry experience, a proven delivery methodology, and best-in-class software technologies. The result — powerful solutions that improve enterprise performance by optimizing asset availability and delivering unique data-driven insights. Our decades of experience and innovative performance solutions enable us to align business processes with operational objectives, unlock the untapped potential that exists within the customer's enterprise systems, and maximize the return on technology investments.
