

Chef Spotlight

Love. When you ask a published, world-traveling, highly skilled chef the secret to his incredible sushi creations, you don't expect him to answer, "love." But Chef Steven Kim attributes his passion for culinary to the love his mother put into everyday cooking.

In his book, Weekend Cooking & Family Love, Chef Steven describes growing up in beautiful Masan Bay, South Korea, where seafood markets proved to be more inspiring than his college textbooks. After hands-on learning with local fishermen and chefs, he decided to pursue formal sushi and sashimi certification at the prestigious Tokyo Culinary Institute and for the past 20 years has served as head chef and manager to trendy sushi restaurants in South Korea, Japan, Nicaragua and the U.S.

At Crazy Rock'n Sushi in Irvine, you can find him delighting customers with uncompromising quality and unexpected creativity in every dish he serves. He appreciates beauty in details that others don't see and when given the opportunity, he will transport you to another place and time.

Chef Steven and his talented crew invite you to get adventurous and be delighted at Crazy Rock'n Sushi in Irvine, California.

"Growing up I didn't understand how important math would be in my career. I was taught through memorization and I hated it. I love how MIND is taking math outside of the classroom and showing students that it is all about problem-solving!"

Chef Steven Kim
