Datacor, Inc. Announces 22nd Annual Chempax User Conference - Interaxions 2016

Florham Park, NJ – December 2015 – Datacor, Inc., the leading developer and provider of Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) and Customer Relationship Management (CRM) for Process Manufacturers and Chemical Distributors, today announced details of its 22nd Annual User Conference, Interaxions 2016: Focus on the Future. The conference will take place from May 11-13, 2016 at the Wyndham Hamilton Park Hotel & Conference Center in Florham Park, New Jersey.

Interaxions 2016 will offer attendees three days of in-depth education programs, peer networking and social activities, and the ever valuable one-on-one meetings with the experts behind the software. Participants will gain a better understanding of the capabilities and power of Chempax and eChempax to leverage immediate and long-term benefits. In addition, attendees participate in the design and direction of future product development.

"Interaxions gives our customers the opportunity to learn techniques that will immediately make them more effective in their jobs," said Sean O'Donnell, President of Datacor, Inc. "At the same time, this event provides great networking and idea sharing opportunities with members of the Datacor community. Our goal is to always exceed our customer's expectations and provide a high-impactful program from one year to the next."

Details about Interaxions 2016: Focus on the Future is available at www.datacor.com/interaxions. Registration will open in late January 2016 and we encourage users to take advantage of early registration discounts.
