Human Translation (HT)

From patents to safety data sheets/labels, product catalogs, ISO manuals, SAP training documents and much more, we offer accurate technical translations of your documents.

Our skilled native-language translators have degrees and/or work experience in the subject area, greatly increasing the initial quality and reducing the overall time it takes to do a translation. In addition, our reviewers have the same qualifications plus the added responsibility of ensuring your documents contain consistent terminology usage and are error-free.

Combining this talented linguistic staff with experienced project managers creates a team focused on exceeding your expectations every time. We are the premier SDS translation service available today. Our clients include many of the top SDS Authoring Software systems and major chemical companies.

Machine Translation (MT)

When you need it inexpensive and fast so you can get the gist of a document's contents, machine translation will be your tool of choice. Just as a hammer cannot do all construction jobs, not every document needs a full human translation. As a screening tool or to gain a quick understanding of a foreign language document, our machine translation service will provide you the lowest cost option for MS Word, Excel, PowerPoint, text, web pages and RTF documents.

Korean Patent Machine Translation

We now have the ability to offer Korean Patent MT for USD 39.00 per document with near real-time turnaround. If the patent is available in the KIPO database, we can usually provide a translation within 24 hours of quote approval.

A subscription-based service is also available which would allow unlimited use instead of a per-use charge.

Machine-Aided Translation (MAT)

Whether you are researching new material or trying to stay up-to-date on what the competition is doing, we can provide rapid, cost-effective translation of foreign patents and technical articles via our machine-aided translation service. Fitting in between a machine translation and a full human translation, machine-aided translation offers you a higher level of quality at a slightly higher cost, but is still faster and less expensive than a human translation.

Localization

We can localize your web site, meaning we can take it beyond mere translation and review the site to ensure it conforms to local customs and practices, is user-friendly in the target language and conveys the information in a way that is appealing to the target audience.

Voice Over

From script translation to voice talent, we offer the ability to take your training material, product videos or marketing CDs from English into the language of your global clients.

Desktop Publishing (DTP)

We can do brochures, posters or other marketing literature in PC or Mac versions of Ventura Publisher or Quark Express, in most common Asian or European languages.

CLP Phrase Package

In response to increased client inquiries about complete lists of hazard statements and precautionary phrases, GLTaC has developed a complete package containing 249 phrases corresponding to the CLP Regulation (EC) No. 1272/2008 and its subsequent Adaptations to Technical and Scientific Progress (1st through 6th).

Beyond the CLP regulations, GLTaC has identified the relevant national regulations and/or GHS implementations containing the corresponding statements for non-EU languages and carefully compiled them. For languages in which these statements have not been codified, GLTaC has utilized professional linguists with excellent chemistry and environment, health, and safety (EHS) backgrounds to translate and review each phrase.

The result is a package of phrases in 48 languages from the world's most trusted source of SDS and label translations.

Web Integration

GLTaC has the ability to integrate our Translation Management System directly with your document management systems. This streamlines the translation process, allowing your company's content manager to request a document in a different language by indicating which languages he needs, along with a due date. The request is automatically forwarded to GLTaC, and when the translated file is ready, is uploaded back into your system with notification sent to the requester. All transactions on the existing site are processed using a VeriSign security certificate.
