

WHAT'S THE WORST ANSWER YOU HAVE EVER GIVEN DURING

AN INTERVIEW?

We've all had those moments... and they're not our best. Thanks to a recent Askreddit thread on reddit.com, we have compiled some of the funniest and far out there responses on the internet!

"How do you keep yourself calm and happy sounding while dealing with aggressive customers on the phone?"

"I look at a picture of my cat."

In retrospect the last thing I needed was another call centre job but I was actually horrified as the words left my mouth.

credit to u/lunakitty

"Why do you want to work for company X?"

"This is company X?"

Beforehand I thought I was actually applying for a job for one of their competitors. I did not get hired.

credit to u/BigDaddyIce12

"Why do you want this job?"

"I need the money."

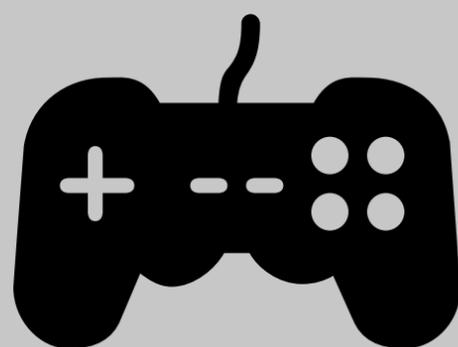

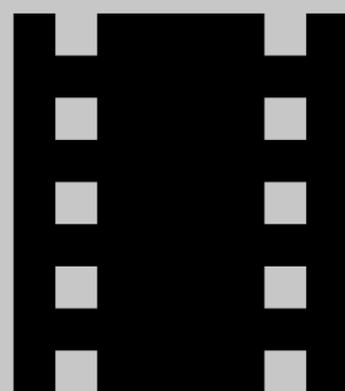

"Is that all you desire from this experience?"

"Well I want other things too."

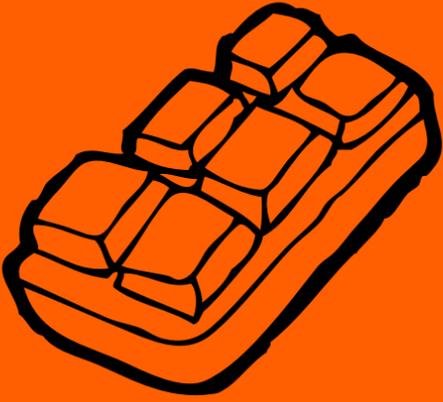

"Like what? can you elaborate?"

"Like I want to be able to go to the movies, and buy video games."

"That's all done with money."

credit to u/Thejesterfool

"What do you consider your greatest weakness?"

"chocolate"

credit to u/Oboogie9

"What are your strengths and weaknesses?"

"I don't have any weaknesses, I'm mediocre at everything."

Well.. I didn't get a call back. I still cringe.

credit to u/Nom_Nom_Nomitron4

"Why do you want to work for Microsoft?"

"Well, I disliked Vista so much I bought an Apple computer, so I'd like to try and make it a better operating system."

Turns out, the interviewer was one of the lead developers for Vista.

credit to u/CompSci_Guy

"Do you want this job?"

"No."

I was hungover and the guy interviewing me smelled like rotten eggs.

credit to u/thebeautifulsolution

I was asked to describe myself in 3 words.

I decided to lighten the mood by making a little joke. I said something along the lines of "Honest, loyal, intelligent. Oh, and modest. hahaha".

She didn't look up and wrote down all 4 words, I imagine making a mental note to add "cannot follow basic instructions" to my file. I didn't get the job.

credit to u/TuftyFluffytail

"Tell me what you know about the company."

"Honestly, not much."

Did not get hired.

credit to u/japres

"so why are you applying for this job?"

"I'm really interested in getting into the field of finance..."

**"..."

It was an insurance company.

credit to u/eb

"What don't you like about your last job?"

"Well at my last job I didn't like the micro management going on."

"Well I'm a micromanager..."

"...adios"

credit to u/WhitestAfrican

For more information contact us!

www.talentretriever.com | 781.425.5550 | info@talentretriever.com