

Lieutenant General Edward C. Cardon is the Commanding General of U.S. Army Cyber Command and Second Army.

He was born in Texas and raised in California. In 1982, he was commissioned as an Engineer Officer from the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Lieutenant General Cardon has commanded at every level, from company through division. Prior to leading Army Cyber Command and Second Army, he commanded the 2nd Infantry Division in South Korea.

His education includes a Bachelor of Science degree from the United States Military Academy and two masters' degrees in national security and strategic studies from the National War College and the U.S. Naval Command and Staff College.