FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Janus International Debuts new French Oak Collection

(Temple, GA – February 15, 2007) Janus International has introduced an enhanced new line of customized facades, the French Oak Collection.

The French Oak Collection is an attractive alternative to standard color finishes on flush doors, hallway systems and storage lockers. Particularly suitable for wine storage, the Collection features durable laminate over galvanized steel, which simulates the look of wood. Aesthetic upgrades, such as crown molding, are also available in this finish. The Collection will reach a niche market in the self storage industry that's looking for visual appeal as well as strength and usability.

Tropical Storage in Miramar, Florida has installed a full section of wine storage lockers in the French Oak finish. "The look of our wine storage lockers appeals to the discerning clientele to which we cater," states owner Jim Labonte. "We're extremely pleased with the outcome of the project and the superior craftsmanship from Janus International."

The French Oak Collection will also be featured at this year's ISS Expo in Las Vegas, February 22-23, 2007 in booth 217.
