

RAPTOR SERIES [PORTABLE]

Portable Resistance Training System

The light weight Raptor unit is a revolutionary, portable resistance training system that utilizes the patented VertiMax Elastic Training Technology to load athletes for distances of up to approximately 45 yards. With the Raptor, a whole new dimension in speed and strength training opens up for individual and team training from youth to Pro levels that simply isn't possible with conventional elastic bands. In less than two minutes a Raptor unit can be attached to a chain link fence, wall or portable support to transform any space into a world class speed and strength training center.
