

4th Source Inc. Recognized as 58th Fastest Growing Privately Held Company in Atlanta

The Atlanta Business Chronicle recognized 4th Source at their 19th annual Pacesetters Awards ceremony.

Atlanta, GA (PRWEB) May 08, 2014 -- 4th Source Inc., a leading provider of nearshore IT services specializing in application innovation, application development and application managed services, was recognized as the 58th fastest growing private company in the recent unveiling of the Atlanta Business Chronicle's 19th Annual Pacesetters Awards. This prestigious award marks the second for 4th Source, the first received in 2011.

4th Source established its headquarters in Canton, Georgia in 2004, ten years ago. The company provides multisourcing through a U.S. Project Management Office as well as resources spread across four delivery centers. 4th Source's value is that it can provide the right resource at the right price, the right place, and the right time. Its staff and services complement and extend customers' internal IT, Development, and Consulting organizations. 4th Source follows an enhanced software lifecycle approach; leveraging the proximity and availability of nearshore and insourcing resources to bring project teams together during critical phases of delivery and ensure customer success.

“We are honored and excited to receive this award. This is an affirmation of the planning and hard work that 4th Source has performed over the last decade,” said Mark Molinari, Co-Founder and Co-Chairman of 4th Source.

About 4th Source:

Founded in 2004 with offices in Georgia, Memphis, and Denver, 4th Source is a leading provider of nearshore IT services. 4th Source was built on the premise that proximity matters, providing software development lifecycle services to US companies in need of a reliable, cost-effective strategy to extend their own development teams. What makes 4th Source different from other outsourcing companies is their nearshore delivery model, a winning combination of a U.S. based leadership team and project management offices blended with Mexican based development, testing and support resources. The U.S. Leadership team consists of executives from Oracle, SAP and the Big 4 that have done it all before. They understand the business needs and expectations of their U.S. customers. All 4th Source delivery consultants are employees of 4th Source, graduates of some of the most prestigious institutions of higher learning and trained and certified in their respective technical disciplines across Oracle and Microsoft technologies.
