

Liturgical Year Catechesis Model

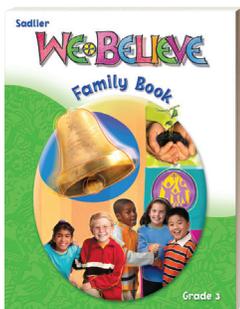

We Believe™

We Live Our Faith™

Catholic Identity Edition

Grades K–8

Dear Catechetical Leader,

Following the liturgical year can be an alternative model for catechesis, whether at home, in your religious education program, or even as a variation to the traditional week-to-week model that incorporates the liturgical year and weekly readings. Many parishes wish to connect to the weekly readings at Mass in their catechetical programs. Following this liturgical year approach is a way to shift focus from “following the book” to following the weekly readings at Mass.

This guide allows you to follow the liturgical year, Cycle C, as an alternative model for organizing and presenting the material in We Believe, instead of proceeding chapter by chapter. Grade level chapter correlations for each week in the liturgical year facilitate the liturgical model of catechesis. These correlations make use of print resources including student editions, Family Books, and retreat leader’s guides.

Implement Flexible Resources with your Liturgical Year Model

Enhance Catechesis with Digital Liturgical Resources

Online Resource Centers (Sadlier.com/Religion)

This web site contains seasonal resources organized into three resource centers. Most seasonal resources can be found in the Catechist Café. A simple drop down menu filters results and identifies point-of-use resource for religious education plans this month. Resources include seasonal prayers, activities, saints, lesson plans, events, and articles. Sadlier’s blogs can also be accessed from this site, offering timely seasonal resources to compliment catechesis.

This Week’s Liturgy (Religion.SadlierConnect.com)

Sadlier offers a digital resource with the readings for each week that can be used to augment traditional models of catechesis. This Week’s Liturgy provides the weekly readings, reflection, discussion questions, and activities for both primary and intermediate grades.

This Week’s Liturgy can be used during other gatherings, such as meeting for prayer, announcements, or a mini-lesson with the catechetical leader before class. Depending on time constraints, activities from the feature could be suggested to catechists for follow-up in the classroom or at home.

Question of the Week (Religion.SadlierConnect.com)

The Question of the Week feature, based on the weekly Gospel, inspires faith sharing and discussion. Whole community activities are provided for each week. These can be done anywhere and at anytime. The activities have been specifically written so that they may be adapted to your particular needs.

Gather In My Name (Religion.SadlierConnect.com)

Gather In My Name intergenerational events focus on a particular seasonal theme, developed through prayer, presentation, discussion, interaction, and resources. A Leader’s Guide contains a step-by-step outline of the session. A handy preparation chart serves as a checklist for assembling materials and resources. Handouts and templates are provided for use before, during, and after the event.
