

Caregiver Information

ELS caregivers are all professionally trained to provide the best care and piece of mind.

All Caregivers are Certified

ELS Personal Care Companions are Certified Nursing Assistants (CNA). They provide personal attention and friendship. The client and home health companion can share walks, talks, shopping and errands. They can enjoy a game of cards or a favorite TV show. A home care companion can help with light housekeeping, preparing meals, transportation, or scheduling appointments. Personal Care Companions also assist with dressing, bathing, grooming, toileting, transfers, and medication reminders.

A Personal Plan Of Care Is Important

After an initial phone interview, a home visit is scheduled when the entire family can come together to discuss their concerns and plan a care-giving strategy. An ELS home care professional, trained to help, will listen and explain the various care giving options, which might be available. ELS placement personnel match the home health and personal needs of the family with the most appropriate skills, experience and personality of the home care worker.

We carefully match each caregiver to the most appropriate assignment. Consistency in scheduling the same caregiver is our goal!

Today's world calls upon us to provide our loved ones with the best personal assistance possible while allowing them the comfort and dignity of living in their own homes. Age, physical disability and illness are just some of the many factors that necessitate our personal care.
