New Main Line Firm Shaping Future of “Healthy” Divorce in 2012

Main Line, PA January 17, 2012- The New Year marks a fresh start for many couples who often call it quits just after the holidays. Main Line Family Law Center opened its doors this December 2011, with its healthy divorce program, in an effort to support the increasing number of couples seeking a positive way to end their marriage without spending away their life savings. A “Meet and Greet” lunch event is scheduled for Thursday, January 19th at Gullifty’s on 1149 E. Lancaster Avenue, in Bryn Mawr, from 12-1:30pm.

“While the PA no-fault divorce laws have definitely made it easier to get a divorce, it has not made it any less expensive, faster or less painful” according to Crispino M. Pastore, Esquire, founder and president of Main Line Family Law Center. A typical court-contested divorce can cost upwards of $30,000-40,000 on average and can take 2-4 years, having devastating and long-lasting emotional effects on the family.

Founder and President, Crispino Pastore was recently recognized in the Legal Intelligencer for his visionary approach to family law. According to Pastore, “My aim is to revolutionize this area of divorce law practice by focusing on family preservation and generating widespread community awareness of the great gift of mediation so that anyone can benefit from it, regardless of their particular needs and circumstances.”

Spouses have been putting off their divorces because of the down economy. But in 2012, divorce rates are set to climb significantly as the economy slowly recovers.

Pastore, a local graduate of Villanova University Law School and Radnor High School, Pastore developed his vision after serving several years as a private family law attorney. “I felt my hands were constantly tied as I witnessed the destructive nature of the litigation process on couples and their families.”

With the My Healthy Divorce™ all-in-one divorce mediation service, offered only at Main Line Family Law Center, spouses can now have their entire matter wrapped up in 3-6 months, with both a fair agreement and final divorce decree in hand, all for a small fraction of what it would cost them to hire private divorce lawyers and go to court.

“We're hoping that this solution will help couples, who can no longer wait it out, to find a better way to begin ensuring their family's future.”

Divorce mediation is quickly reshaping how divorce is done. Although divorce mediation is not new, it is rapidly becoming the preferred way for spouses to resolve their domestic differences, especially in tough economic times.
