COMPANY

"We understand the WHY before we suggest the WHAT." We are Legal and Compliance technology specialists. We deliver content and collaboration solutions to large corporations and Law Firms globally. We facilitate collaboration for various types of content within enterprise portals with a vigilant eye on security and Intellectual Property concerns.

SERVICES

Meeting the business needs of Legal and Compliance departments with technology solutions.

Content Management

Collaboration most often revolves around multiple users contributing to, or providing feedback on, unstructured content (such as documents; spreadsheets or presentations). Whether you have an existing content management system or nothing at all, Elegrity will work with you to give you an ultimate solution for collaboration sure to streamline your work.

Intuitive User Experience

Effective collaboration relies on ease-of-use. If the collaboration environment itself is difficult to use or navigate, then collaboration will be blocked. We leverage our long-term web application expertise to provide 'application-like' user experiences for collaboration portals. Users must be able to get in, get around and get out efficiently and effectively for collaboration to work.

Security

Information classification, intellectual property protection, information security policy adherence, and external access security considerations are all incorporated into a secure collaboration solution. Customized privileges based on user, location and access method are critical to ensuring appropriate access to your information. Monitoring and reporting capabilities provide auditing and visibility.
