Water Falls

Enjoy the wonderful, serene sounds of a waterfall designed for your landscape. Adding a well-designed waterfall and pond, for example, can transform your backyard into a private sanctuary for birds, Flora, and fauna where you can relax with family and friends.

Imagine a hot summer's day strolling through your garden and being refreshed by the cool mist and gentle sounds of your cascading garden waters.

Nothing is more tranquil than a waterfall beautifully engaging the senses. Picture how you can start enjoying the wonderful, soothing sounds of water in your landscape by installing a water fall or other water features.

Water Fountains

Celebrate an intimate section of your garden with bubbling sounds from a gently flowing fountain. A simple fountain makes a bold statement. Whether serving as a focal point like this one or tucked among your plantings as a hidden surprise, the flowing music of a fountain masks neighborhood noise --- making your outdoor home experience more enjoyable and restful.

Small space? Not everyone has the space or desire for a large scale garden pond, stream, or waterfall. A gurgling fountain, however, can fit easily into patios and garden areas. Antique bricks and bright green ferns add color and texture to this intimate fountain with ceramic urn.

Want more? Fountains can be featured as a dominant focal point in larger landscapes and/or combined with other water features such as ponds, spas and waterfalls for maximum impact.

Streams

Streams let the beauty of water flow through your property and create a sense of presence.

Innovative landscaping technology makes it possible to design an easily to maintain babbling brook or stream to integrate with your surroundings.

Think about how delightful it would be to have a meandering stream ripple through your garden landscape. Cascading waterfalls, playful streams, Colorful Koi fish, and lush flowering water plants can be integrated with this water feature to create a restful, exceptional landscape.

Garden and Koi Ponds

Adding a water pond in your landscape creates an exciting dynamic in your garden areas. Pond water features can be placed in even the smallest of garden areas, or incorporated in large installations.

Water gardens and ponds can be an important source of water to backyard wildlife. You can choose from a variety of beautiful options --- from quiet, still, shallow ponds to active formal pools.

Koi ponds and water gardens, popular with fish enthusiasts feature Koi, or more specifically nishikigoi --- ornamental varieties of domesticated fish that adorn the waters of outdoor koi ponds or water gardens.

Outdoor Living At Its Best

Getting Started with Your Project:

In the same way that designing a house involves more than selecting paint colors or window styles... good landscape design means looking at the big picture. Start by considering what your home has now ... such as a deck, patio, children's play area or water feature. You may simply need a "foundation plan" by a knowledgeable landscape designer. This plan creates attractive plant combinations that fill out your existing areas.

The expert designers at Green Impressions look at your home's landscape with a trained and critical eye. We create a plan that takes into account your lifestyle, preferences and budget. We listen to your concerns and ask questions to create the right plan for you. Some of these questions include:

With our experience and education, we design with the Northern Ohio climate in mind. We can ensure that you have flowering plants all season long. Our design service is included in all landscape installations. Our design process starts with a no cost or obligation consultation to begin creating the perfect plan for you. Contact us today
