

Med School Tutors

Since 2007, Med School Tutors has helped students prepare for Step 1 by working with them one-on-one. Instead of offering courses, lectures, or videos, MST's approach is tailored to each student's weaknesses and strengths, according to their learning styles and schedules, and is guided by a personal coach who has scored high on Step 1.

Med School Tutors are medical students and residents who have excelled in their medical studies and training. Their minimum credentials include:

- Training at top medical schools and residency programs
- Superior standardized test scores (e.g., Step 1 > 245)
- Significant and verifiable teaching experience
- Interviewing and training with senior Step 1 coaches who have USMLE coaching experience

Med School Tutors assists students according to their needs. Comprehensive packages include:

- Personal day-by-day study schedule and plan
- Test-taking techniques and confidence-building exercises
- Assessment by question bank performance and NBME test analysis
- Selection and use of high-yield resources
- Integrated review of content with emphasis on student's weaknesses
- Emphasis on question/vignette-based learning
- Clinical reasoning skills training
- Holistic support throughout study period

Students start with a complimentary consultation and discussion of their needs and goals. This is followed by the tutor matching process and introduction to the tutor. Students then begin formal work with a trial session, the cost of which is discounted 2 hours for the price of 1. The trial session includes diagnostic assessment, teaching demonstration, Q&A, and the establishment of a personal study plan. Med School Tutors services are offered in person in Manhattan and near other select medical centers. Students also work with tutors seamlessly online via Web conferences.

Northwestern Medical Review

Northwestern Medical Review offers question bank services, live classes, online self-study review courses, and private tutoring in preparation for USMLE Step 1 and COMLEX Level I examinations. Duration of live courses is 5–16 days. Courses are taught by the authors of best-selling books and experienced Northwestern Medical Review lecturers. In addition to organized lecture notes and books for each subject, courses include Web-based question bank subscription, audio CDs, and a large pool of practice questions and simulated exams. The curriculum uses the unique built-in Adaptive-Flexi-Pass™ teaching methodology that progressively customizes content areas around the academic need of the student. In addition to customized onsite courses, public review sites are frequently offered in East Lansing, Mich.; Chicago; Philadelphia; and Hartford, Conn. Live courses are also globally available at international sites, including Puerto Rico, Mexico, India, China, Canada, Dubai, and other locations based on demand. Northwestern Medical Review offers a free retake option for all live courses as well as a liberal cancellation policy.

Tuition for each course is $465. Private tutoring, CBT question-bank access, and DVD materials are also available for purchase independent of the live-lecture plans.
