OmniComm and RELICO Announce a Strategic Partnership

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., June 12, 2013 -- OmniComm Systems, Inc. (OMCM), one of the fastest growing companies in the Electronic Data Capture (EDC) marketplace, and Reliable Lifesciences Consulting (RELICO), a leading eClinical consulting services firm, announced their new strategic partnership today. The partnership will allow OmniComm to offer best-in-class EDC project management and support, and add to OmniComm's own European based support services, while allowing RELICO to offer study build and support services to its clients as well as access to one of the most intuitive, productive EDC suites available on the market today.

"OmniComm is delighted to partner with RELICO," said Stephen Johnson, President & COO, OmniComm Systems. "RELICO's vast experience and good standing in the life science community, extends the reach for OmniComm particularly within Europe and the Middle East. They have a distinctive reputation for efficiency and scalability, managing projects for large pharma and small biotech alike and more importantly, getting it right the first time."

OmniComm's System Integrator Partner Program is focused on building out a global support ecosystem of proven companies dedicated to the eClinical market place. Both of OmniComm's key products, TrialMaster™ and TrialOne™, offer an intuitive user experience and lower total cost of ownership. Clients will gain enhanced benefits from RELICO's expertise across different platforms, especially in terms of multivendor eClinical systems integration with diverse functional requirements and capabilities.

"By becoming an OmniComm partner, RELICO is aligning itself with the fastest growing EDC providers in the industry," said Dr Hauke Kindler, RELICO's CEO & Founder. "Their proven reliability and very strong focus on interoperability and innovation is seeing them out-perform the older, aging EDC systems that are currently available."
