ISSUE: WINTER

MARCH 2015

Dear Janet,

Spring is about to get sprung and for some of us in the polar climates, this is a blessing. For those of you that are planning to attend trade shows, conferences this year, stay tuned to see what shows Origin will participate in.

We appreciate your comments and feedback.

True position on an Arbitrary Boundary

Are you seeing call-outs like this?
(Profile with Position & Material Conditions)

We are all familiar with a position call-out on a hole with bonus. But what if the hole isn't round? Y14.5 2009 has introduced the concept of position with bonus on an arbitrary boundary where the size (and form) are controlled by a profile call-out.

CheckMate now supports this call-out with our Group Profile tolerance. CheckMate's Group Profile has always allowed you to combine multiple surface measurements together to determine the overall high, low, worst and average deviations. Now a position tolerance can now also be applied to the Group Profile. The profile is fit to its nominal to determine the position deviation (how far it moves is how far it was out). And, as a result, the profile tolerance is evaluated regardless of location just the same way a diameter is evaluated regardless of a

GOV'T FUNDING FOR TRAINING

Attention Canadian Customers

The Ontario government recently signed an funding agreement with the Federal Government. The funding will provide direct financial support to individual employers who wish to purchase training for their employees.

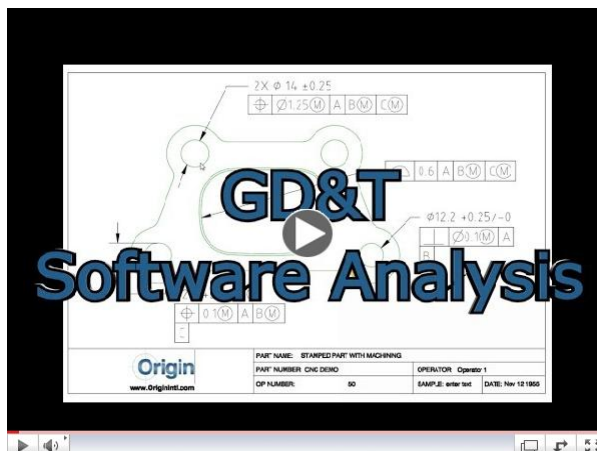

In this grant program, employers choose the individuals they would like to have trained, and the training that meets their workforce development needs.

This program is intended to support employers in taking a greater role in workforce development. The cost of training is a shared investment between employers and the government.

For more information, or to see if you qualify for this funding, click here.
