

GSX Solutions expands with new Boston office

Company expands US HQ with Microsoft Channel Partner Manager, opens Boston office to manage North American partners and resellers

Orchard Park, NY – September 12th, 2013 — GSX Solutions [www.gsx.com], the global leader in proactive, consolidated monitoring and reporting of enterprise collaboration environments, including Microsoft Exchange, Microsoft SharePoint, BlackBerry Enterprise Server (BES), and IBM Notes, today announced that it is expanding its partner program in North America by hiring a Microsoft Channel Partner Manager and by opening a new Boston office to manage its tier 1 and tier 2 partner network. These moves are designed to provide North American partners with the support they need to successfully integrate GSX Monitor & Analyzer into their offerings.

While GSX has had a presence in North America for more than 10 years, the enhanced partner support will help build recurring revenue streams and drive business growth with high margin opportunities and renewal protection.

Heading up the Boston office is VP Jean-François Piot, who has led GSX business development in Europe and the company's Exchange and SharePoint monitoring growth since 2009. Together with his team he will support the company's continued expansion into this strategic region looking for tier 1 and tier 2 partners.

"Our core strength has always been to engineer sophisticated solutions to monitor and manage enterprise collaboration environments," said Antoine Leboyer, CEO of GSX. "The rapid expansion of both our client base and partner networks allow us strengthen our focus on the North American market by opening a second office and adding more people to the team."
