Dear David:

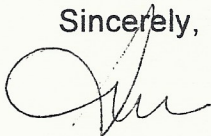

Thanks so much for presenting your Positive Impact: Attitude workshop last week for the Career Wardrobe. The women responded very well to your interactive and motivational approach.

Your humor as well as the real-world examples that you provided opened their eyes to the importance of attitude in the workplace. The positive impact you made on them will surely help launch them into the workforce, well prepared for whatever might come their way. What you have to offer is very important to success not only in the workplace but also in everyday life.

If your schedule allows, I hope you will consider presenting more of your workshops for the Career Wardrobe. Back by popular demand! In addition, I will be glad to recommend your workshops to other organizations.

Your creativity, energy, and care were obvious and much appreciated. Thank you again, David.

Sincerely,
