Sound Off!

We thought we would try something different.

In every discussion we and our colleagues have had for the past several months the same questions come up..."How are you making out?", and "What does next year look like?". So we thought we would ask you - our friends and colleagues - and report the results.

Please click the link below and take this two minute survey. We will report the results in our next Reporter. The Survey will remain live through December so you can bring your end of the year planning to it...or give us your seat of the pants thoughts.

Many thanks and have a wonderful holiday season. The entire Semaphore crew wishes you a safe and prosperous New Year.
