

Intellect MobileApps

Enterprise mobility in today's modern workforce is no longer a nice to have, it's a necessity.

Businesses are no longer solely reliant on the work done from a desktop in an office, and mobile devices are emerging as a powerful source of productivity.

Intellect's smart MobileApps provide powerful business process functions that anyone can use from absolutely anywhere. Easily build out an unlimited amount of customized apps in a matter of minutes without the need for programming, and optimize business efficiency at all times and all places. Change the way you manage your processes, monitor task completion while work is in progress, acquire data from anywhere, upload photos from the field, and stay connected while managing your operations and data at all times even when internet connectivity is lost.
