Program Description:

In this seminar you will learn about trade terms and what they tell your buyer about you; when to use letters of credit, payment in advance, or open account; the best means for extending credit while reducing risk; what export financing alternatives are available; and how to insure and finance foreign receivables. Come gain valuable insightful and relevant information from GBC International Bank and our international financing partners.

Program Host(s): GBC International Bank

GBC International Bank is a 40-year-old, FDIC-insured, business bank having headquarters in Los Angeles, CA. It specializes in financing U.S. exporters with a number of different loans and lines of credit, and is one of the most frequent users of EXIM Bank and SBA Office of International Trade loan guarantees for commercial banks and lenders.
