

3/13/2020 - Remote Meeting Capability

During these difficult times, it's critical to maintain regular operations, including those related to water safety in your facilities. People with confirmed cases of COVID-19, or coronavirus, are more susceptible to infections from water in buildings. We are ready to help you.

Phigenics has a history of supporting our clients remotely with their Water Management Programs. We use advanced and established technology to make video meetings effective, allowing you to focus on your Water Management Programs. We've also taken action to ensure our labs are capable of meeting your testing requirements with no interruption in services.

We will help you manage your building water systems as the global situation with COVID-19 continues to evolve. Phigenics will provide updates for the foreseeable future. Contact us at 1-844-850-4087.
