“SUPER-COMPLIANT” SOUTH COAST AQMD PRODUCTS

The South Coast AQMD is the air pollution agency responsible for regulating air pollution in the South Coast Air Basin, in Southern California. The agency creates, adopts, and implements the Air Quality Management Plan (AQMP or Plan), a regional blueprint for achieving air quality standards and healthful air, to bring the area into compliance with the clean air standards established by national and state governmental legislation.

Rule 1113 of the South Coast AQMD Rule Book limits the volatile organic content (VOC) of architectural coatings as they constitute the majority of area source emissions in the South Coast Air Basin. “Low-VOC” refers to coatings that meet the regulatory limits and “Super-Compliant” refers to coatings that are well below the regulatory limits – they meet the stringent VOC standard of 10 g/L.
