What to Expect

This one-of-a-kind opportunity gives students total access to our recording studio, lesson rooms, and performance space — all under the expert guidance of Real School Instructors. Designed for all types of musicians, Audio Production caters to students who are looking to write and create electronic music and songwriters who want to learn how to record their own tracks. This program teaches students the skills and tools needed to produce their own music while running successful recording sessions. Students will be placed into small groups according to their age, skill level and musical interest. Once placed, they will be off and running on a creative journey to write and record their own original song using cutting edge audio recording techniques and Logic Pro, one of today's top audio production softwares.

Student Life

During this program, students will learn about songwriting, editing, recording, micing technique, and mixing audio. Audio Production groups will also work with student bands to produce, add instrument parts, and record original music written by their peers. At the end of the week, the student's songs will be premiered to a live audience and they will also receive a studio quality recording.

Music Education

Throughout each week, students will attend master classes which focus on specific areas of music production that are vital to being a successful audio engineer and producer. Class topics include: Beat Writing & Loop Manipulation, MIDI programming, use of special effects, and so much more!
