

Rauland Values Statement

The people who are Rauland, a Division of AMETEK, Inc., share the following six (6) values:

Integrity

We value integrity as our way of doing business. We believe that honesty, respect, sincerity, clarity of purpose, and high ethical standards are the cornerstones for building long-term relationships.

Innovative Leadership

We value the challenge of innovation. We believe our customers look to Rauland to be their provider of the most innovative products, services and processes available.

Pride of Work

We value our pride in the work we perform. We value our pride that comes from the satisfaction our work provides for our customers.

Teamwork

We value teamwork. We believe the true potential of each individual will become achieved through working together with other people as a successful team. We value the benefits of effective communications processes for causing teams to be successful.

Change and Continuous Improvement

We value the opportunity presented by change. We know the requirements of our customers, suppliers, and regulators, both external and internal, are constantly changing. Their expectations, and ours, are always increasing. We are committed to responding to change and dedicated to continuous improvement. We challenge ourselves toward excellence.

Growth

We value the long-term growth of our company as the ultimate measure of the success of our team. We value the professional and personal growth of every member of our team. We believe the professional and personal growth of each member of our team will cause the growth of our company. We believe the growth of our company will serve as a nourishing environment to cause the professional and personal growth of each member of our team.
