The Chrome River advantage

Easy Expense Allocation. Users simply type in a portion of the project code, project name, cost center name, or other allocation criteria and our intuitive Allocation Selector does the rest. No other solution provides this ease of use while ensuring proper project allocation of your expenses.

Policy Enforcement Benefits. A powerful, industry-leading rules engine manages and enforces expense policies across the entire organization. Unlike any other system on the market today, rules can be quickly and easily changed at any time, even daily, using an ingenious Microsoft Excel template.

Automated Routing in Organizational Matrices. Chrome River accommodates the industry's most sophisticated routing and approval review requirements. Routing can be automatically controlled at the line item or report level based on your organization's preference. Projects and can be processed independently rather than being bound together within an expense report. Manual routing decisions are also accommodated, allowing users to send expenses directly to specified approvers.

Mobile Expense Management. Chrome River is designed for traveling employees and provides an industry-leading mobile platform for complete system and project access. Chrome River delivers the same user experience across all devices regardless of size or shape and provides a fast and easy way for users who are on the go to enter and approve expenses.

Granular Reporting and Analytics. Easily track the expenses of a project or stages within a project to ensure you stay on track. Run analytics to identify trends for policy improvement, cost reduction and volume discounts from vendors.
