How We Begin:
Empowering Customers to Make Well Informed Decisions

With a customer's executive level sponsorship, Speech Interface Design conducts a consultative complementary operational analysis in order to present a projected value proposition and return on investment (ROI).

How We Proceed:
Working Collaboratively with Customers to Ensure their Satisfaction

Customer's operational, technical and financial teams are engaged to ensure their solution requirements are clearly defined, so expectations are met. Our voice solutions are developed and implemented via a well proven project methodology and typically are ready for go-live in just 90 to 120 days.

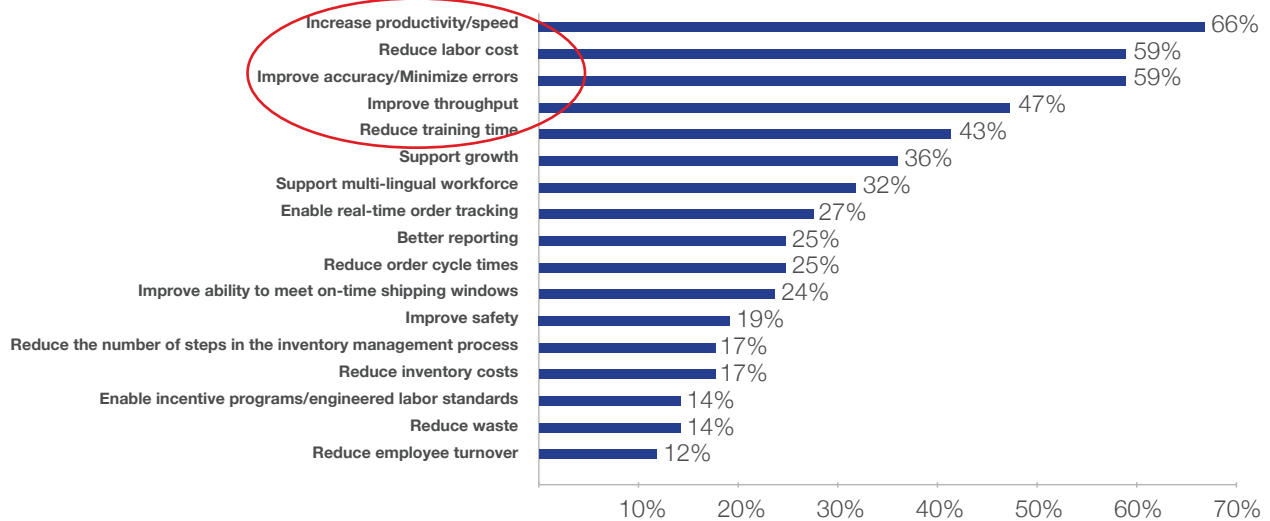

What's In It for Our Customers:
Exceptional Business Results and Investment Value

Increased bottom line profitability, high ROI and low risk represent the value of voice provided by Speech Interface Design. Our customers can count on industry leading and trusted performance, reliability and support.

Customer Testimonials

I wanted to drop you a short note communicating our satisfaction with the Voice system installed at our Lakeland, FL facility. The ROI we experienced was significant in that our production improved from 110 cases per hour to 180 cases per hour while simultaneously improving accuracy by approximately 70%. Additionally, you and your staff have provided competent and professional services both during and after the implementation.

Speech Interface Design did a great job being realistic and executing per the agreed project management timeline; and the engineering review is great giving us full understanding of the requirements and suggesting process improvements in our operations.
