Mr. Winslow is a Project Executive within Gilbane's Environmental Center of Excellence with over 27 years of industry experience and is responsible for addressing a variety of environmental, industrial hygiene and sustainable issues as they relate to the construction industry. In addition, Mr. Winslow is the Leader of Gilbane's Corporate Sustainability Council which is responsible for ensuring Gilbane's continued commitment to sustainability excellence within the community as well as assisting all 400+ LEED APs in maintaining their various LEED specializations. Lastly, Mr. Winslow is also a founding and current Board Member of the RI Chapter of the USGBC and is responsible for coordinating education activities; with a special emphasis in assisting the LEED AP community with meeting their LEED credential maintenance requirements.

Gilbane's Environmental Center of Excellence provides a variety of services to clients in such areas as Sustainable Design and Construction Methods Integration, Life Cycle Cost Assessments, Regulatory Compliance Solutions, Program Efficiency Modeling, Site Selection and Site Closures. We assist owners to define and achieve their operational or project sustainability goals and can serve as the LEED consultant to define requirements and coordinate efforts toward project certification. This combination of practical project experience provides Mr. Winslow a unique insight into the needs and challenges faced in the sustainable building environment while also forming a solid base for creative, proactive solution planning.
