Olivier Witteveen Appointed as Chief Information Security Officer of Avadyne Health

San Diego, CA — Avadyne Health (Avadyne) announces the appointment of Olivier Witteveen to Chief Information Security Officer (CISO).

In this new role, Witteveen will be responsible for enterprise-wide information and data security. He reports to Avadyne’s CEO, Jayson Yardley. Witteveen will continue as a member of the Executive Team and expand his previous role leading the software operations of Avadyne Health, since joining the company in 2012.

As the needs of Avadyne, its customers’ and the patients’ we interact with daily evolve rapidly toward a greater use of technology, the security risks increase.

“Compliance plays an increasing role in our business, our partnerships with providers and their patients. Olivier has an extensive background in managing complex business operations, technology and information security,” said Yardley. “The security of our customers’ and Avadyne’s data is critical and we’ll look to Olivier to bring his best practices and standards to this role,” he added.

Prior to Avadyne, Witteveen served as Chief Operating Officer and Co-founder of Benchmark Revenue Management overseeing security and IT. Witteveen received a Master of Management and Finance from Erasmus University Rotterdam and earned an undergraduate degree in Modern History from the University of Amsterdam, both in the Netherlands.
