

Maintain Your Family's Quality of Life.

You'll gladly pick up the tab for your loved ones, whether you're paying for movie tickets or funding a cruise to the Bahamas.

When you're no longer there to support your family, Transitional Life Insurance can help them maintain their standard of living.

A Transitional Life Insurance policy provides a high, level benefit during the years you need it the most, and it ends with a guaranteed, paid-up policy that remains for the rest of your life.

Ask your local Pekin Insurance® agent about a Transitional Life policy to protect your family in their time of need.
