Brand Manager (Entry Level Marketing)

Job Role:

DS Laboratories is experiencing tremendous growth and is looking for motivated marketers to take this journey with us.  We have an excellent entry-level opportunity for peoplewho want to build a career in marketing.  With positions available nationwide, DS Laboratories will fly you down to our headquarters in Fort Lauderdale, FL for extensive training program to prepare you for your assigned geographic territory.

The Brand Manager travels to all the channels where our products are sold (high end salons, high end retail) and interfaces with salon owners, stylists, and employees to improve sell through in all our outlets.

This role will demand tremendous creativity, as you'll have to determine why in certain salons our products have stagnant sales and work with our VP of Sales and VP of Education to determine creative solutions to improve sell through.

Who we are looking for:

1. Passion:  Our products truly outperform the competitors on the shelf, and through our science and education programs you'll learn and experience the results that we deliver to our customers.

2. Tenacity:  Do you never give up, and always strive to do something better or make a process better?  We are looking for those individuals who can take challenges in stride and figure out creative ways to overcome them.

3. Drive:  Are you looking to make the most out of yourself and your career?  We want A-players only, and will work with you to help you reach your fullest potential.

About DS Laboratories:

DS Laboratories is a young dynamic Nasdaq company that builds personal care products which deliver results.  We offer tremendous opportunities for growth, mentorship, training, and support to all our staff and alumni throughout their career.

You'll have dedicated meetings to inquire about how your career is going, monthly report cards with mentorship about your performance, and continual training to improve your business skills and prepare you for a successful career.
