

Hello,

HubSpot's mission is to help millions of organizations grow better. We think solving for the customer is an important part of that. As HubSpot co-founder, Dharmesh Shah, states in our customer code, "Growing better is never forgetting to solve for the customer." That's why we have the HubSpot Solutions Partner Program Impact Awards.

They celebrate the success stories and performance milestones of our partners and customers growing better together. Once your partner submits your success story for one of our awards, we may want to use some information about your company with the partner and/or HubSpot community.

This may include, but isn't limited to your company name, logo, website, testimonial, assets that your partner created for you, and any other information showcasing the work your partner has done for you. We may also use this information to promote the awards on our website, in public or private presentations, press releases, interviews, or in connection with other campaigns.

Additionally, your partner might want to use the same information about your company to promote your success story. If you agree to let HubSpot and your partner use what was submitted in connection with our HubSpot Solutions Partner Program Impact Awards, please sign below.

Thanks for being a part of our HubSpot family and continuing to grow better with us.

Best,

Kipp Bodnar
Chief Marketing Officer HubSpot, Inc.
